Food for thought!

Today Jesus is calling us to ponder on just how tolerant we are of others with different beliefs to ours. What Jesus means by tolerance is a deep sympathy and understanding of the person you are accepting, even though their beliefs and way of acting may be very different from our own. In today's Gospel we hear how Jesus reprimanded the disciples for their jealousy and suspicion, because someone they didn't know was doing good in His name. We may have differences to others - in our behaviour, attitudes, values, and in our faith, but we must learn to respect our differences and treasure our own faith. Sadly many people have become believers of convenience and only go to Church when it doesn't conflict with other priorities. Jesus reminds us that building His Kingdom is not about territories, but it's about love. The opposite of love is jealousy, envy, fear and suspicion etc.- and this is something we're all capable of, and very often shows itself when we feel insecure or threatened. God's generosity is so great that He freely offers His love to all people of every race and religion. We were created in love, so that we could grow in love day by day - looking out for each other's needs. May the Lord free us from any anger or jealousy that may be in us, and may we always rejoice when we see anyone doing good in His name - whatever their religion or race might be. Praise Him!
